Some two years ago we published a sketch of the life of John Deere of the firm of Deere & Co., Moline, Ill., the largest steel plow works in the world, and his success from the time he went West till present time. Mr. L. G. Whitford of Addison, who spent a score of years in the West, returned to his native town, bringing the John Deere goods into the country. He has by diligence and fair dealing been quite successful, introducing them all through this county; never fails of selling the Deere Plows when a fair trial is submitted to.

The meetings at the Methodist church are continued under the charge of the pastor, assisted by Mr. Roberts, the colored evangelist.

Twenty couples of the young people had a dance at McCue's hall on Monday evening, the Middlebury orchestra furnishing the music.

Rev. and Mrs. William Meeker are making a short visit to friends in town. Mr. Meeker was once pastor of the Methodist church here.

Hon. H. Henry Powers of Morrisville is having steam-heating apparatus put in his residence, and Allan Calhoun of this town is doing the work.

Letters thus addressed have remained in the postoffice one month unclaimed for: James A. Heath, Wm. Kyle Phillip O'Connell, E. E. Smart, Amos P. Smith.

S. H. Bracey has gone back to Minnesota to engage in railroad building. His brother-in-law, F. J. Speyer, who is in the same business, accompanied him.

A number of the people of the village heard Lawrence Barrett in "Francesca da Rimini," some at Burlington Wednesday night and others at Rutland Thursday evening.

There is said to be a prospect of a Vermont college base ball league of which the University of Vermont, Middlebury college and the Lewis college clubs will be members.

James Hughes, who was badly hurt by falling from a staging at Keeseville, N. Y., last summer, has come back to Middlebury. He has not yet recovered from his injuries.

The nomination of Mr. Peck to be postmaster of Middlebury has been confirmed by the Senate. There was no objection, so far as appears, and there was no reason for any.

The Young Men's Christian association has taken possession of the McCue block. Mr. McCue has bought an interest in the saloon in the Smith & Sheldon block, lately owned by A. B. Colby.

W. H. Allen returned Wednesday from Westport, N. Y., whither he went on Saturday to attend the funeral of his uncle, Nathaniel Allen, announcement of whose death appears elsewhere.

The D. V. S. society, organized by the young ladies of the high school about a year ago, gave a Tennyson costume party at Prof. Seely's on Friday evening. It was largely attended and enjoyable.

Rev. C. S. Murkland of Chicopee, Mass., was in town for a short time on Friday last. He has received a call to the pastorate of a church in Manchester, N. H., with $3000 salary, and will probably accept.

Rev. L. W. Spring, who once preached to the Congregationalists here for a short time, and has lately been connected with the State university of Kansas, has been made professor of English literature at Williams college.

George E. Wales of the junior class was sent by the Young Men's Christian association of the college to represent it at the meeting of the national association at Providence, R. I. He reached home Sunday morning, after spending a week in Boston.

Not much butter was brought to market Monday. The prices ranged from 27 cents down, the latter figure being paid only for the best quality of new-milk. Farmers hereabouts seem to be selling a great many of their new-milk cows. Over 50 of them went to Boston Monday.

The exhibition by the junior class of the college comes at the close of the winter term, Tuesday evening, the 23d inst. There will be no tickets, and all the friends of the college will be cordially welcomed. There will be no dance, that feature of late years having been a failure financially. The local orchestra will provide music for the exhibition.

The W. C. T. U. of Middlebury invites the county W. C. T. U. to meet at the residence of Mrs. Clinton Smith Wednesday, March 17, at ten o'clock a. m. It is important that this meeting be fully attended, as work must be planned for the ensuing year. Dinner will be served at half-past twelve, to which gentlemen are also cordially invited.

"The Sleeping Car," Howells' farce, which was given at Bridport Tuesday evening by the young people of St. Stephen's, was witnessed by a good audience. Owing to unavoidable mistakes and mishaps, however, the net proceeds were small. The net amount realized here last week was $75, instead of $85, as stated; and an out-of-town lady gave $25; so that the fund aggregates $100.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Northrup of Buffalo, N. Y., were in town Sunday and Monday on a visit to his mother, Mrs. S. J. Northrup. They left for home Tuesday morning. Mr. Northrup was quite out of health for some months in consequence of over-work after the fire which burned out the Matthews-Northrup Printing and Engraving Co., in which he is junior partner; but he has now fully recovered.

A number of gentlemen of this and neighboring towns, who have been more or less extensively engaged in shipping sheep to the West, had a meeting at the Addison House, Saturday afternoon, to see what they should do about A. J. Severance of New York city and this town has a patent on the fitting-up of cars for transporting sheep and claims that these shippers have been guilty of infringing his patent.

Smith & Allen will probably soon have another big job on their hands. The town of Rockingham, in which Bellows Falls is situated, voted, some months since, to build a town hall at a cost of $50,000. Plans were asked for, and several were submitted. Those of George G. Adams, a Lawrence (Mass.) architect, and Smith & Allen were adopted; that is, parts of each of the two. Mr. Adams has taken the plans to finish, combining both; and Smith & Allen are to have the contract for putting up the building, which will be erected the present season.

The camp-fire held at the town hall on Friday evening by Post Russel G. A. R. was largely attended. Gen. W. W. Henry of Burlington, United States marshal for the district of Vermont, read an exceedingly valuable paper on the "Wilderness Campaign from the Rapidan to Cold Harbor." It was full of graphic descriptions of the events and scenes of those days. Gen. Henry is an exceptionally clear-headed man, and knows exactly what he wants to say and can say it in a straightforward manner that is both pleasing and effective. After the paper, hard-tack, coffee, etc., were served and partaken of by a large number. The post realized a fair sum, and had a fine time, besides.

Last Sabbath morning the Congregational church of this place added sixty-two to its membership, fifty-five upon profession of faith and seven by letters from other churches. Thirty were baptised. More have been added at the last two communions than for any whole year since 1835, when, mainly as the result of a sweeping revival, one hundred and eighty-six were received to membership. The monthly concert of prayer for missions, in the evening, was held for the first time in the large audience room; and the attendance justified the change of place. The Young People's society of Christian Endeavor, recently organized, has a large membership and its meetings at six o'clock Sabbath evenings are well sustained. The Sabbath morning prayer meeting is much enjoyed and promises permanent usefulness.

A NEW SHEEP-BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION.

The American Pauline Merino Sheep-Breeders association, of which there has been some talk for a year or so, is now fully organized and has adopted a constitution and by-laws. The objects of the association are thus stated in the constitution: "To preserve and promote the breeding of blood lines, descended from the stock rams, Fremont, Bonaparte, Stub, Bismarck, Eureka 3d, Rip Van Winkle, Banker and Volunteer." In the register, we understand, the individual pedigrees of all animals recorded, eyes as well as rams, will be given. The association's officers are: President, H. C. Burwell, Bridport, Vt.; vice-president, Lionel Sherwood, Newark, N. Y.; secretary, John P. Ray, Hemlock Lake, N. Y.; treasurer, H. E. Sanford, West Cornwall, Vt.; executive committee, Edgar Sanford of West Cornwall and Charles R. Case of West Bloomfield, N. Y.

DEATH OF HARRY G. LANGWORTHY.

Many friends here and elsewhere will sincerely regret to learn of the death of Harry G. Langworthy, which occurred on Wednesday afternoon, the 10th, at his home on Washington street in this village. The deceased had been gradually failing for two years, and for the past six months very rapidly, as the result of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Langworthy was the eleventh child and fourth son of Sheffield and Chloe Langworthy, and was born in Ferrisburgh in January, 1816. Of this large family only three survive, Mrs. H. E. Slade, the youngest of the children, and George and Myron Langworthy, all residents of the village. The subject of this sketch had scarcely any educational advantages and was early thrown upon his own resources. In his younger days he worked about as a laborer. During a portion of this time he lived in Northern New York. In 1846 friends established him in business as a general merchant here. He continued alone in that pursuit till about 20 years ago, when he sold an interest to Frank A. Bond, and finally Mr. Bond bought out the whole business.

Converted at the age of 18 years, the deceased had from that time on been a very active, earnest and consistent member of the Methodist church, which sustains a great loss in his death. Few men live more in accordance with the teachings of Scripture than he did. He was a straightforward, upright and thoroughly honest man of clear and strong convictions; and never hesitated, when called upon, to express his opinions upon questions of morals, private or public.

Mr. Langworthy's first wife was Harriet Powers of Middlebury, who died some years ago, leaving one child, now Mrs. Frank A. Bond. He then married Jane, daughter of the late Oliver Wellington of Middlebury, who survives him.

The funeral will be attended from the residence this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.
